Hero of Drama of Atlantic Greeted by Cheers in England

WEARING A LIFE-JACKET, gallant Captain Kurt Carlsen waves to an aerial cameraman from the deck of his disabled freighter Flying Enterprise just before she sank off the coast of England in the vicinity of Falmouth. Carlsen and his one-man crew, Mate Kenneth Dancy of the tug Turmoil, were almost swept overboard into a rough sea.

Worst Moment, He Says, Was as Ship Went Down

FALMOUTH, Eng., Jan. 11—(AP)—Safe ashore, Capt. Kurt Carlsen told the story Friday of his monumental fight with the raging Atlantic—a two-week battle against wind, waves and cold.

He told a cheering crowd of thousands: "I deeply regret that I was not in position to bring the Enterprise back with me."

From the deck of the rescue tug Turmoil he watched the death throes of the 6,751-ton Flying Enterprise Thursday, minutes after he leaped into the water from the dying freighter. She went down in 40 fathoms—250 feet—of water, 37 miles off this fishing port, after a thrashing, titanic battle with the sea.

"That really hurt me, quite a lot," Carlsen said.

It was that "last gale" which struck the stout ship its death blow, the courageous, 37-year-old skipper told a news conference.

"The last few days' gale was too much," he said. "There were high seas going and they were too much."

His worst moment in the long ordeal, he said, "was the moment that the Flying Enterprise disappeared."

He obviously loved his ship. (Please turn to Page Ten)

Eisenhower Should Doff Uniform And Campaign, GOP Senator Says

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11—(AP)—Senator Aiken (R-Vt.) believes that if General Eisenhower wants to be President he should ask to be relieved of his present job, doff his uniform and make his views on domestic issues known.

"He should come out swinging and not be so coy," Aiken said.

Aiken's comments attracted attention here because he long has battled what he calls "the old guard" in the Republican Party. Aiken's proposal compared with President Truman's statement

Thursday that he will keep Eisenhower as supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe as long as the general wants to stay there.

Mr. Truman, after repeating his previous praise of Eisenhower, said the general would have to resign if he wins the Republican nomination.

"I think he better resign if he wants to win the nomination," Aiken said. "He would greatly strengthen himself as a candidate if he lets voters know where he stands."

AIKEN, WHO has not yet joined other New Englanders in booing Eisenhower, said the "voters are entitled to know Ike's views."

"He certainly can't differ too

Disarmament Plan Is Approved by UN

PARIS, Jan. 11—(AP)—The United Nations General Assembly voted 42 to 5 Friday to set up a 12-nation Disarmament Commission.

The body will study step-by-step reductions in arms and armed forces, culminating at some future date with prohibition of atomic weapons.

The Western Big Three powers—the U. S., Britain and France—sponsored the measure, the major achievement of the sixth UN General Assembly here.

Four weeks of debate in the assembly's political committee—including private Big Four talks with Russia and Assembly President Luis Padilla Nervo for one week in an attempt to reach understanding—preceded Friday's decision.

AT THE OUTSET of the session, Russia withdrew amendments it had previously attempted in vain to get adopted in the political committee which would have demanded immediate prohibition of atomic weapons.

The assembly voted down Czechoslovak attempts to emasculate the Western power resolution, especially on the step-by-step procedures. Avoidance of a fight over the Russian proposals speeded up the assembly action.

The proposal calls for the 11 nations making up the Security Council plus Canada to study all disarmament proposals beginning within 30 days and to submit its first report by June, 1952.

Common Pleas Court Cooperates

Campaign on Drunken Drivers Launched in Highland County

HILLSBORO, Jan. 11—Drunken drivers in Highland County will run the risk of losing their driving licenses under an arrangement suggested by the prosecutor and common pleas court.

Darrell R. Hottle, prosecuting attorney, sent a letter to mayors, police and justices of the peace throughout the county, as well as to State Highway Patrol stations at Wilmington and Chillicothe, in which he said he would place misdemeanor cases before the court.

He said Judge George W. McDowell had assured him that the court would cooperate in suspending the motorists' permits.

The letter read in part: "Because of the menace of the drinking driver to the safety and lives of those using the highways, both motorists and pedestrians, I call your attention to the use of the information by the prosecuting attorney to present a misdemeanor case before the common pleas court.

"Due to the fact that the common pleas court is the only court of record in Highland County, I extend you the cooperation of this office in bringing before the court those violators whom you feel should have their licenses revoked."

A similar procedure has been followed in Pickaway County for two years. Circleville officials report a sharp decline in drunken driving cases as a result.

However, Circleville's new mayor, Edward Amey, has indicated he does not think too much of the program, saying that the common pleas court penalty is "too severe."

Sea Search For Survivors Of Lost Ship

SEATTLE, Jan. 11—(AP)—A widening sea-air search for the freighter Pennsylvania and the 45 men who abandoned her wallowing hulk Wednesday was underway Friday over a large North Pacific area.

Capt. George Plover (Master of ill-fated ship)

Three ships continued to comb the area and seven airplanes were alerted to participate in the second day of searching the windy, surging ocean spot where the men last were heard from.

Canadian and U. S. ships and planes Thursday conducted a day-long criss-cross search of the region 465 miles northwest of Vancouver Island where the broken and water-logged freighter last reported being in difficulty.

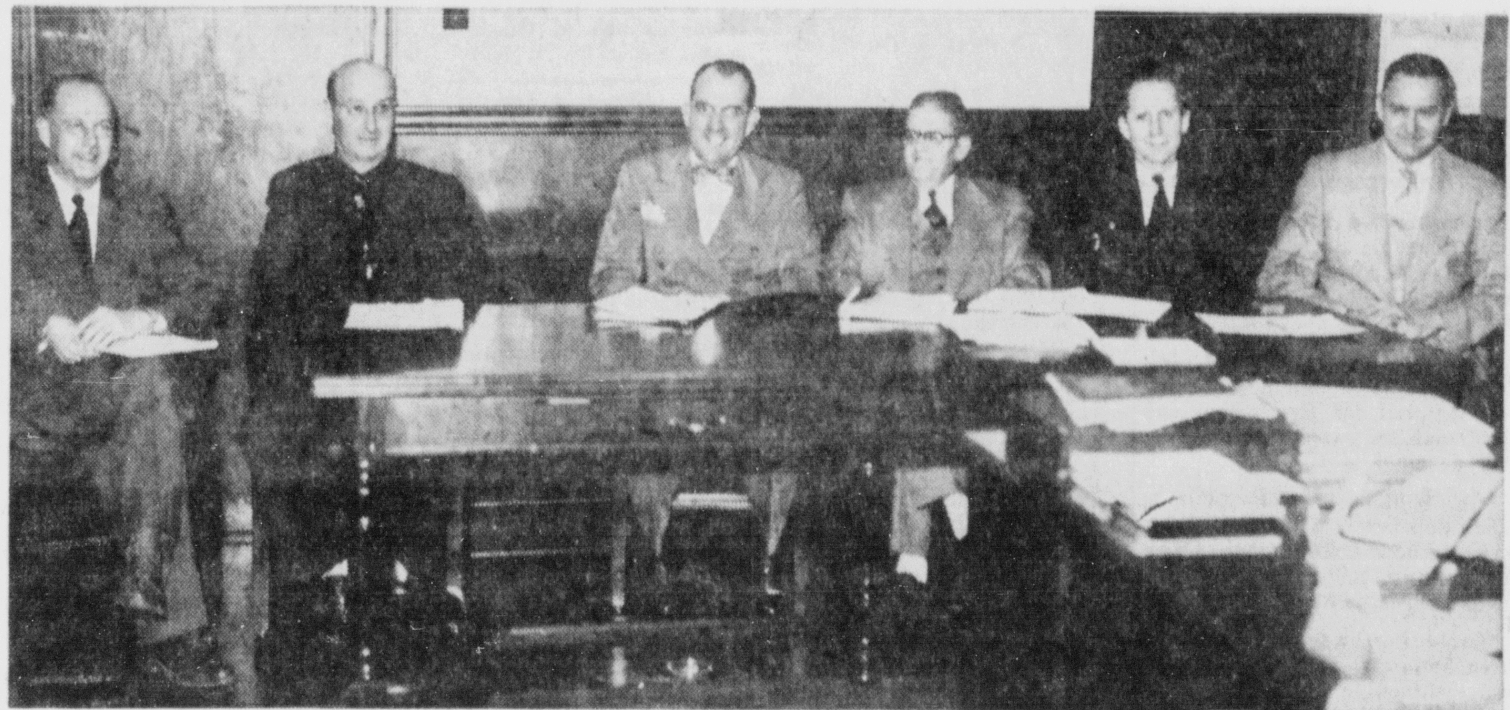

They found nothing. Not even a scrap of wreckage, a drifting bit of clothing or a life preserver. Just wind and waves and snow flurries.

School Building Program Sought Here

City school board members, meeting together to transact their first regular business of the new year, Thursday afternoon, decided to again open up the question of a building program for the city schools this year.

What form plans for a building program will take was not indicated by the board, but there was a hint that the citizens committee which functioned last year will again form the nucleus of a group which will help make the decision.

Board members indicated that the citizens committee might be expanded to include principals of the various schools in the city and perhaps a few other individuals.

VOTERS IN THE Nov. 8 general election last year turned down by a heavy vote a citizens committee recommendation that classroom units be erected at Sunnyside and Eastside schools.

This left the problem of overcrowding in the elementary school up in the air; now, from indications Thursday night, the board, comprised of three new members, will try for some solution.

Aside from a brief discussion of the building program, the board also talked about reviving track in the high school and got reports on the use of the high school gym for the county basketball tournament, a procedure for registering student drivers and on other varied subjects.

BOARD MEMBERS voted in favor of the high school having a track team and competing against other schools in the area. Kurt Koons, a member of the high school coaching staff, appeared before the board briefly and told the members that he estimated it would cost approximately $252 to field a team. He said there were 42 high school youths who are interested in track.

On the subject of county basketball, the board got a report on when the annual county basketball tournament will be held and what plans have been made to prevent the destruction of property and the careless use of facilities during the session.

Supt. Brown reported that the tournament will be held in February and that the WHS gym will be used again this year at the same rental as last year, but that contracts will be sent to G. H. Biddle, who has charge of the tournament.

Kidnaping Confessed By Childless Woman

NEW ULM, Minn., Jan. 11—(AP)—Chief of Police Edward L. Larson said Friday a New Ulm woman has confessed kidnaping an 18-day-old baby in Mankato Thursday.

She said she took it to replace a baby she "lost" through miscarriage.

Larson identified the woman as Mrs. Leonard Scheid, who is in her middle 30s. She has no other children and lives in a second floor apartment over a tavern in downtown New Ulm.

The baby—son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Callahan—is "OK and is being cared for by a police matron in the New Ulm police station," the chief said.

On a tip, the chief went to an apartment Friday morning where the baby was reported held.

Mrs. Callahan, 35, and the mother of six children, told Mankato police Thursday a stranger posing as a pregnant woman seeking advice on child birth appeared at her door. She arrived shortly after the four other Callahan children had left for school and was invited in.

Stanley W. Christ, Mankato police chief, said Mrs. Callahan told this story:

She chatted a few minutes with the visitor in the Callahan living room. Then the baby began to fuss.

Mrs. Callahan went to the kitchen to prepare a bottle. While thus engaged she heard a shot.

Racing into the bedroom, the housewife was confronted with a pistol the woman held. Mrs. Callahan and her four-year-old son were forced into a closet. The intruder barred the door by placing a chair against the knob.

Twenty minutes later, when Mrs. Callahan worked herself free, the blonde and the baby were gone.

Lockbourne Base To Get New Wing

COLUMBUS, Jan. 11—(AP)—The number of planes and personnel at Lockbourne Air Force Base will be doubled early next summer.

A $17 million building program has been launched to house about 4,000 more airmen. A new reconnaissance wing of B-29s will be based at Lockbourne, in addition to the 91st Strategic Reconnaissance Wing of B-45 jet bombers, already based there.

Col. Joseph J. Preston, commander of the 91st, said the two wings would form an air division, commanded by a major general.

Five Workers Killed In Truck-Car Crash

RAVENNA, Jan. 11—(AP)—An auto-truck crash east of here killed five persons Thursday on their way to work at Ravenna Arsenal.

They were Charles Stewart, 51; John Monson, 21; Esther Caples, 27; Eli Davis, 32; and Mrs. Madeline Dillard, 34. All lived in the same settlement north of here.

Hearing on Assault Is Faced by Mayor

BEAUMONT, Calif., Jan. 11—(AP)—Mayor G. P. Hamilton was ordered to appear for arraignment Monday for assault of a newspaper reporter.

Reporter James Jaeger and the mayor clashed Thursday in front of the Beaumont Gazette building, where Jaeger is employed. The reporter accused the mayor and other members of the City Council of demanding he withhold news about the resignation of Robert Bruce as chairman of the City Recreation Commission.

Hamilton explained he and the councilmen had objected to the manner in which the story of Bruce's resignation was written.

THE CONTRACTS, calling for a clean-up of candy wrappers, etc., and payment of damages done to school property, two uniformed police on duty at all times and other responsibilities on the part of the competing schools, will soon be sent to Biddle for signing by the schools.

Student drivers will have the law laid down to them on the matter of reckless driving. Principal E. Wayne Titus said he is in the process of making out registration cards for all students who drive cars to the high school.

A complete registration of the students will be made, with the parents of the drivers also signing the cards. Definite rules for the parking of and driving of student cars will be drawn up.

IN OTHER BUSINESS the board agreed to permit the schools to be dismissed at noon, Friday, Jan. 18. (Please turn to page ten)

Atomic Artillery Weapon Displayed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11—(AP)—The military Friday showed to the Senate—House Atomic Committee a model of an artillery gun designed to handle atomic shells.

The model was enclosed in a concealing wooden box when carried into and from a closed-door session of the committee.

Chairman McMahon (D - Conn.) declined comment when reporters asked him whether the model was that of a gun already actually constructed or was made from the blueprint of a gun still to be built.

McMahon said the committee members looked at the model and discussed it. He declined to say more, except that the model had been brought to the committee session by an ordinance officer.

It was the first time, he added, that such a model had been shown to the committee.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 11—(AP)—Common Pleas Judge Edward Blythin has refused to hold that bingo may be played in Cleveland for "charity." The ruling on an appeal was made in a case brought by Brook Park post, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Ohio's Shale New Source for Oil

COLUMBUS, Jan. 11—(AP)—When you think of oil, the states of Texas, Oklahoma and Pennsylvania come to mind—but never Ohio.

But things may change in the next 20 years or so. That possibility was brought out by John H. Melvin, chief of the geological survey division of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

Ohio's potential oil reserve is in the form of oil-bearing shales and low grade coal found in about one-fourth of the state, he says.

Right now it costs too much to convert shale and coal into oil to compete with regular oil, but geologists estimate this nation will have passed its petroleum production peak by 1975. By the year 2,000, shale and coal may be producing most of the nation's domestic supply.

The shale belt is estimated to be about 20 feet wide. It begins in Ross County, passes through Pickaway and Franklin Counties, follows the west border of eastern Ohio coal fields and swings northward to Lake Erie.

LOW GRADE coal is on the western edge of Ohio's soft coal fields. The geological division and Ohio State University engineers are co-operating in an exhaustive study of how best to extract oil from shale and coal.

While no commercial company has decided to set up an extraction plant, Melvin says one may "in the not too distant future." Persons "very, very much interested" have made inquiries of the department.

Until just a few years ago, shale was thought to be without value. Then oil-extraction experiments (Please turn to Page Ten)

Airfield Plans Of Communists Stir Allied Ire

Jet Battle Flares As Invaders Push Deeper into Korea

MUNSAN, Jan. 11—(AP)—Allied truce negotiators handed the Reds a virtual ultimatum Friday. They demanded an explanation of an alleged contradiction in the Communists' announced stand on construction of airfields during an armistice.

Maj. Gen. Howard M. Turner said negotiations for supervising a Korean truce could not continue until the Reds explain the apparent discrepancy.

Turner said the Reds last month announced they planned to build and repair airfields while a truce was in force, but denied Thursday this is their intention.

Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fang insisted the Communist position never has changed and declared: "You will never get a satisfactory answer to your unreasonable demands."

The truce subcommittee met for only 34 minutes. The subcommittee on prisoner exchange adjourned after four hours and 20 minutes.

BOTH WILL MEET again at 9 p. m., EST., Friday, in Panmunjom.

Rear Adm. R. E. Libby told newsmen that in the prisoner subcommittee "we are still trying to get them to explain their sudden shift on the doctrine of free choice—how they justify it and then repudiate it."

Thursday Libby accused the Communists of insisting on forced repatriation of war prisoners after the Reds said thousands of South Koreans had joined the Red armies of their own free will following capture.

McGrath Assignment Is Assailed by GOP

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11—(AP)—President Truman's assignment of Attorney General McGrath to clean up the government has drawn angry protest from Senate and House Republicans and silence from the Democrats.

The White House orders for the big cleanup stem, in part, from income tax scandals uncovered by a House investigation. A subcommittee headed by Rep. King (D-Calif.) has aired charges of corrupt deals and collusion involving high officials in McGrath's Justice Department and the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Mr. Truman said Thursday he had abandoned plans to create a special cleanup commission and had placed full responsibility on McGrath, as the chief law enforcement officer.

"That means there is going to be no cleanup," snapped Senator Capehart (R-Ind.).

Senator Nixon (R-Calif.) and Rep. Bakewell (R-Mo.) both renewed their demands that McGrath be fired. Nixon said Secretary of the Treasury Snyder "also must go." The Internal Revenue Bureau is in Snyder's department.

Apology Made To Fired Girls

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11—(AP)—The Army apologized Friday to two government girls it fired as security risks four years ago and offered to return them to their old jobs and pay them any money they lost as a result of the dismissals.

Said Eleanor Deak, 26, of Jermyn, Pa.: "It is regrettable that four long, heart-sick years for me and my family have had to pass before my good name could be cleared."

Grace Patton, 35, of Charlotte, N. C., said "It's been a long fight, but we made it. I'm awfully happy the case is all over."

Miss Deak added: "The police state can happen here unless the people, their representatives and the courts are ever alert to the dangers inherent in the granting of the summary discharge power to civil administrators."

The two were dismissed from the Army Finance Center in St. Louis in March, 1948.

Meanderings

By Wash Fayette
There's still a deep spark of honesty in people; it's something that preys on the conscience and bursts forth at the most unexpected places and times. Craig's Department Store was the place this morning (Friday).
In the morning mail a scrawled note cleared at least one man's conscience. Several years ago, he wrote, he took $1 from the store. "I'm sorry," he added. Inside the envelope was a crumpled $1 bill.
With all the corruption in government and other high places, it is a solid and satisfying fact to know that most "little" men are still untainted and that they live in a country where a person can not only have a conscience but clear it.

Hospital Bonds Bring Premium, Low Interest

$125,000 Issue Gets
12 Bidders - Indicate
County Standing High

That Fayette County's financial standing is rated very high was made evident Friday noon when bids were opened by the county commissioners for the $125,000 county bond issue to provide an additional fund for the Fayette County Memorial Hospital.

There were 12 responsible bidders from various parts of this state, one from Michigan, another from Indiana. All were banks or bonding houses.

The successful bidder was the First National Bank of Washington C. H., with an offer of 1 and 1/2 percent interest on the bonds and a premium of $490.

The conditions set for the sale by the county permitted bidders to bid at not more than 2 1/2 percent interest on the bonds, but all the bidders offered to buy the bonds at a lower rate and offered premiums in addition.

The preparation of the bonds and turning them over to the successful bidder will be completed by the county at once. When this is done the bidder will pay the entire amount of $125,000 and premium to the county immediately. The money will be placed in the hospital building fund for immediate use in plans for construction of the new addition.

The bidders, together with rates of interest and premium offered, were as follows:

First Cleveland Corp., Cleveland—1 1/2 pct. int.—$263 premium.
Ball, Burger and Kraus, Cleveland—1 1/2 pct. int.—$128 premium.
Shannon & Co., Detroit—1 1/2 pct. int.—$70 premium.

Brown, Bosworth, Toledo—1 1/2 pct. int.—$167 premium.

J. A. White & Co., Cincinnati—1 1/2 pct. int.—$379 premium.

Stranahan, Harris & Co., Toledo—1 1/2 pct. int.—$207 premium.

First National Bank, Washington C. H.—1 1/2 pct. int.—$490 premium.

Pajamas Rediculed By Trade Journal

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The trade journal "Tailor and Cutter" denounced pajamas as "vicious" Friday and came out four-square for the old-fashioned night shirt.

Recalling the quotation from Cervantes, "blessings on him who invented sleep," the journal said in a testy editorial:

"Curses on him who invented pajamas."

The editorial especially deplored the tendency of pajama sleeves and trouser legs to creep upward in the chilly night. It said this "invariably produces the necessity for adjustment which eventually grows into a wakeful and irritable tugging, and before one knows it, vexation hath murdered sleep."

"Whilst night is knitting up the raveled sleeve of care," the editorial complained, "we are struggling dreamily to pull ours down."

Nightshirts are roomy, at least, said the journal (sometimes known as the Bible of Savile Row) and "we are quite willing to touch them with our wand of sponsorship."

For gents who have trouble keeping their night shirts in place it suggested a simple curative: Put your garters on upside down and connect the fasteners with the hem.

Panel Discussion At Turkey Supper

A panel discussion on a variety of questions submitted by the members present highlighted the after-dinner program at the Paint Township Farm Bureau's annual turkey supper.

The moderator was Ben Glover, Farm Bureau publicity director, and the panel members were A. F. Ervin; Cecil VanZant, Farm Bureau officer manager; Ed Garretson, field manager and Maurice Sollars, a member of the board.

This was something new for the group and proved both interesting and educational.

At the start of the business session, following the turkey dinner with all the trimmings, Charles B. Cook was elected the chairman for the coming year. Ralph Pope was named the vice president, and Roscoe Whiteside the secretary.

Cook, the new chairman, presided over the meeting, and prayer was offered by Dr. Paul Elliott.

Ervin, who later was to appear on the panel, gave a history of the Farm Bureau turkey suppers. Ervin, a 30-year member of the Farm Bureau, is a past president of the organization.

Following the election and opening business, the following program was presented:

"Walking in a Winter Wonderland," by the Yatesville trio of Linda Frederick, Linda Gault and Betty Barton.

A tap dance by Judy McFadden. A playlet by Marilyn Rhoades and Ronnie Huff.

A guitar solo by Billy Vandine; Tap dance by Sue McDonald and Mary Cook;

Reading, "Deck of Cards," by Jack Biddle;

Tap dance by Zana Cowdrey and Francis Oberschlake.

Ultimatum to Reds

of the Panmunjom site of truce negotiations.

This is far south of the usual range of jet battles.

One Russian - type Mig-15 was shot down over Sariwon, 150 miles south of the Yalu river border between Korea and Manchuria.

In another battle the Communist Migs engaged U. S. F-84 Thunderjets only 30 miles north of Panmunjom.

The four jets shot down Friday raised the total bagged by UN planes over Northwest Korea this week to 11. Twelve others were damaged.

Ground fronts were so quiet the heaviest reported action came from American naval guns. The Cruiser Rochester, supported by the Destroyers Collett and DeHaven, shelled Communist troop concentrations near Kosong on the eastern end of the snow-covered 145-mile battle line.

To the north, two other U. S. destroyers - the Gregory and the MacKenzie - fought an hour long duel with Red shore guns.

Eastside Pupil Hurt in Mishap On Playground

Carroll Bennett, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Bennett of 733 East Temple Street, was taken in an unconscious condition to Memorial Hospital about 1 o'clock Friday afternoon following an accident which occurred on the Eastside playground.

There were no details as to what actually happened to cause the mishap. At 1:25 o'clock Friday afternoon the boy had recovered consciousness and physicians were X-raying him to discover the extent of injuries to his back.

As soon as the accident occurred the Gerstner ambulance was summoned, and it took the boy to Memorial Hospital. The mother, who works at the Main Restaurant here was notified immediately. The father is employed out of the South Solon branch of the DT&I Railroad.

Cook, the new chairman, presided over the meeting, and prayer was offered by Dr. Paul Elliott.

Ervin, who later was to appear on the panel, gave a history of the Farm Bureau turkey suppers. Ervin, a 30-year member of the Farm Bureau, is a past president of the organization.

Big Truck Tears Part of Porch Off Waterloo Home

A tractor and trailer outfit driven by Ernest L. Tedrow, 54, of Hamden tore the corner off the porch of the C. E. Skinner home; knocked down a part of a fence and went up some of Skinner's lawn early Friday, when the tractor went out of control in Waterloo.

According to a sheriff's office deputy, the accident occurred about 10 o'clock Friday morning on Route 277. He said Tedrow apparently got off the side of the road and hit a stretch of ice as he was rounding a turn.

Damage to the heavy tractor-trailer outfit was light.

Dog Is Acquitted Of Murder Charge

SALIDA, Colo., Jan. 11.—A larger Boxer dog was tried and found innocent here Thursday of murdering a Pekinese. Police Magistrate R. J. Murray found the boxer innocent of the charges.

Mrs. Marjorie Tracy signed a complaint against the boxer named Till. She claimed her Pekinese was engaged in a fight back of the Tracy home by Till and an unidentified Shepherd dog.

Don Myers, Salida attorney, defended Till and showed the court that Till had no fangs and badly rotted teeth.

Till was tried under an old city ordinance that said all dogs caught fighting must be put to death.

Former Priest Plans To Wed

CLEVELAND, Jan. 11.—Ches-ter T. Malek, who says he resigned Sept. 19 as a Roman Catholic priest "for many reasons," will marry Miss Dolores Dykas, a former member of his church, Friday.

Malek, who is 37, said he met Miss Dykas, 21, while serving as assistant priest of Transfiguration Roman Catholic Church here. He added that he was a Roman Catholic missionary for 12 years.

The marriage will take place in Sacred Heart of Jesus Polish National Catholic Church, a church not connected with Roman Catholicism and which permits its priest to marry.

The Rev. Roman Pawlikowski, who will perform the ceremony, said Malek "probably will be appointed rector of one of our parishes, either here or in our western diocese."

He said Malek disagreed with several of the Roman Catholic Church's dogmas, including its ban on marriages by priests.

"All of the Apostles, except St. John, were married," said Rev. Mr. Pawlikowski. "I would estimate that one third of our 200 priests are former Roman Catholic priests. I myself was a member of the Roman Catholic Church in Poland."

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The little man admired the wonderful courage of Capt. Kurt Carlsen in staying aboard the Flying Enterprise until a few minutes before it sank. It was man standing steady.

And the little man asked himself, as he figured other people must have asked themselves in reading of the captain's sturdy vigil day by day: "Would I be brave enough to do what he did?"

The little man was no hero, even in his own mind. But he had lived long enough to know it's wiser not to tell yourself beforehand what anyone, even yourself, would do in an emergency, facing death.

It is only when the emergency comes, he knew, that any man can find the answer although all men, including himself, he thought, would like to feel they'd do all right. At least, they hoped they would.

MANY WOULDN'T, he knew. He knew men well enough for that. He wondered how he'd feel ever after if some day the challenge came for him and he found he was one of those who drew back.

From that moment on would he live, in his mind, like a man with his coat collar turned up and the brim of his hat turned down, walking through a crowd, hoping no one saw him? It was something he didn't like to think about.

Yet, although his neighbors were excited about the courageous captain there was, somehow, a dull edge on his own excitement. He tried to root around in his head for the reason.

He wondered if the dullness was due to the time in which we live when millions of men — in World War II and now in Korea, Americans, British, Germans, Russians, Chinese, White, yellow and black—have been heroes, most of them unnoticed.

To be sure, some have been brave in a supreme way that was not only noticed but rewarded with decorations, men who have stood alone against a hundred enemy or thrown themselves on a grenade to save the men around them.

But every day on the battlefields there were magnificent quiet deeds of courage which were unobserved because they were so intensely private and internal and required nothing more conspicuous than a decision in a man's head.

THE LITTLE man was thinking of all those millions of soldiers who were confronted suddenly and individually and for the first time with death in some dreadful form and had to discover just as suddenly whether they could face it.

For some of those who found they could it was the last discovery, undisclosed, for in the next instant death overwhelmed them.

And for those who found within themselves the quality of courage, and lived, there never was much to say later to anyone about that momentary conviction of the spirit before they had been able to answer "yes" to themselves.

To whom could they speak? The others around them? Hardly. Too many others had found the same answer for themselves, each in his own way.

It wasn't true of all but it was true of so many that in our time courage was commonplace.

The little man knew that Capt. Carlsen, unyielding before the ocean, had tested himself truly against a great tradition of the sea: A captain shouldn't abandon his ship.

But the little man knew that in our time millions of men, individually and in a thousand places on land, sea and air, had tested themselves truly against a great tradition of mankind: A man shouldn't abandon himself.

162 Interments Are Made Here During 1951

New Cemetery Board Members Named at Joint Session

During the past year there were 159 interments in the Washington C. H. Cemetery, with three additional ones made in the mausoleum there.

This was shown in the report made by Supt. Wert S. Baughn and presented to a joint meeting of the Union Township trustees and City Council, which accepted the reports on Wednesday night.

During the three months ending with the old year, 38 interments were made in the cemetery plots and two in the mausoleum.

In addition to hearing the superintendent's reports, the joint session named three cemetery trustees. Two men will take the places of the two men who automatically ceased to be trustees, when they were not candidates for reelection to the City Council and the board of township trustees. The outgoing trustees are John Boone, councilman, and William Rodgers, trustee, whose terms ceased.

The term of W. R. Moats, the other member, expired with the old year.

Moats was reappointed; Roy Baughn was chosen as a member from council, and Harold E. Smith, as trustee member of the board.

The quarterly report for the last quarter in the year, follows:

Receipts were as follows: sale of lots, etc. $1,175.33; interment and linings $1,081.20; taxes $265.75; stone and Permacrete vaults $200; trust fund income $12.50; foundations $482.97 and sales tax stamps $6.

The total receipts were $3,243.57 and the balance Oct. 1, 1951 was $1,523.83.

Expenditures were as follows: salary and labor, $2,436.98; office supplies, $20.70; Ohio Water Service Company, water $15.76; Ohio Bell Telephone Service, $9.65; Dayton Power and Light, service, $26.25; withholding tax, $27.70; cemetery supplies, $310.53 and miscellaneous, $582.65.

The expenditures totaled $3,430.22 and the balance Jan. 1, 1952 was $1,337.18.

Turkey Supper Monday Evening

Families of the Good Hope community today were getting ready for the annual Farm Bureau turkey supper next Monday evening.

This affair, one of the biggest on the social calendar in Wayne Township, is for members of the Farm Bureau and their families.

It is scheduled to start at 6:30 P. M., late enough to give the farmers a chance to get their chores finished and still early enough to get in a full evening of sociability and the entertainment program that is to follow.

The turkey will be provided, as is the custom, by the group, but the members are to bring the so-called trimmings in covered dishes and their table service.

Dusty Miller of Wilmington, the homespun humorist, is to be the speaker of the evening.

Mrs. Hazel Devins Retires as Hostess Of Country Club

Mrs. Hazel K. Devins, who has been the hostess at the Country Club here for the past 20 years, is going to retire.

She handed her resignation to the club's board of directors during the holiday.

Although she asked that it be made effective Jan. 1, she agreed to stay on until her successor had been named.

A spokesman for the board said the directors regretted to see Mrs. Devins leave, but that they felt she had asked, and would not ask her to remain longer than necessary.

It was said, too, that the board has no one in mind to fill her place.

Mrs. Devins has been the key to the success of the women's luncheons, the "men's nite" suppers, the summer Sunday dinners and the many special functions.

Her meals, whether dainty menus for parties or those substantial ones that appeal to men, have long been the talk of the club members.

In charge of the kitchen, she served for all types of gatherings from teas to banquets.

She had her own kitchen staff and the serving has been done by high school girls, of whom there always has been a waiting list.

The Rotary and Lions clubs have held their luncheon and supper meetings there for years.

Word that she planned to step out has been passed around club members for the last couple of weeks, but her resignation has just now been confirmed by the board. "It will be hard to find anyone to take the place of Mrs. Devins," directors and members of the club agreed.

Faces Three Charges In Municipal Court

Ernest Wesley Perry of Fayette County, drew three fines in municipal court as the result of driving while drunk, crashing a red light and operating a motor vehicle without a muffler.

On the driving while drunk charge, Judge Robert L. Brubaker gave him 30 days in the Cincinnati Workhouse, and placed him on three years probation. The workhouse sentence was suspended on good behavior.

On the red light charge he was fined $5 and costs and the costs were suspended.

On the no muffler charge he drew $5 and costs, which the court suspended.

Perry has a large family, and this resulted in leniency being shown him by the court.

Municipal Court Bench Is Built

Work of building a suitable bench for the municipal court room here is now nearing completion.

William Anschutz is making it and he readily admits it is the first job of its kind he has ever undertaken.

The bench is about six feet long and several feet wide. It will place the judge's chair fully one foot above the floor level and added to the dignity of the court.

Although lightly constructed of pine plywood, etc., the bench is very substantial and durable, and when finished will also be quite attractive.

The front and sides are enclosed like the usual court bench.

The Sever-Williams Construction Co. has the contract for installing the bench.

Realtors Meeting To Be January 16

The next meeting of the Tri-County Real Estate Board will be held at 6:30 P. M., Jan. 16, at Turner's Restaurant in Leesburg.

S. A. Ringer, Leesburg realtor, is in charge of arrangements. He announced that Fred J. Milligan, former state director of commerce and a present candidate for lieutenant governor, will be the guest speaker.

Milligan was recommended by LeRoy Parson, executive secretary of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards, as a speaker of note.

All realtors are to bring their wives to enjoy the meeting, which is strictly non-political.

Sales Tax Must Be Reported By February 1

Examiner Will Be At Court House To Aid Vendors

Sales tax reports for the second half of 1951 must be filed by all holders of Ohio vendor's licenses on or before Jan. 31, 1952, according to announcement made today by the department of taxation, division of sales and excise taxes.

These semi-annual reports should cover the six-months' period, dating from July 1 through Dec. 31, 1951.

The deadline for filing these reports is Jan. 31, 1952, and all returns should be in the hands of the treasurer of state by that date to avoid a $1 a day charge for delinquent filing.

An examiner will be at the Court House on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, January 28, 29, 30 and 31, to assist vendors in Fayette County. The office will be open all day.

Persons seeking assistance from the examiner will be required to present all records necessary to substantiate the figures to be reported, including a copy of their last report, record of gross and exempt sales and a record of taxable sales of 41 cents or over.

Vendors will also be required to bring copies of their purchase orders, showing the amounts of stamps purchased during the second half of 1951, or have them listed with dates and serial numbers on the reverse side of the sales tax form under Schedule C. Examiners will not be able to complete these reports without this information.

When completed, all returns must be filed with or mailed to the Treasurer of State, P. O. Box 1799, Columbus.

If a deficiency is shown on the vendor's return, due to failure to cancel sufficient sales tax stamps, remittance in the amount of tax due should accompany the report, made payable to the treasurer of state.

Poet's Corner

ROSY NELL

My mother used to sing a song That I will never forget; I never heard it sang before, Nor since, to my regret; Her lovely voice was full and clear Like to a chiming bell; And if my memory serves me right, The song was "Rosy Nell."

It was a ballad, old and sweet, A roving minstrel's strain, Of how his love for "Rosy Nell," Was fruitless and in vain; My mother sang it with her eyes Half closed against the light; And when she finished, I could feel My heart-strings tense and tight.

It has been many, many years, Since mother went away; But still, the song is resonant, As if but yesterday; I pray and hope, in some far land Beyond the grave's dark cell, I'll hear my mother sing again, The song of "Rosy Nell."

Loose Talk on Candidates Is Harmful

The amount of rather foolish and loose talk about the respective candidacies of Senator Taft and Gen. Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination, carry a serious element of danger to a wise choice.

Within the past few days some men, right here in Washington C. H., have been heard to remark, "I would just as soon vote for Truman again as for Eisenhower."

Regardless of how individuals may feel as to the relative merits of Taft and Eisenhower, few who do any real thinking should be willing to place either of them in the same class with Truman whose inability to handle a big job, and whose willingness to surround himself with cronies who seem willing to sell out the country for personal profit, places him far below the level of sensible consideration for further leadership.

This situation may not be entirely Truman's fault but his weakness in failing to take strong and immediate measures to rectify a bad situation, because of personal partisan political reasons, should rule him out completely.

Republicans themselves can cause plenty of trouble in solving this situation by silly "curbstone" political gossip against the men who are being considered on the Republican ticket for the nomination.

All will agree, however, that the people of this country should hear from Gen. Eisenhower in the near future as to his real views and convictions regarding important issues of the day.

Individual citizens have that right if Eisenhower is to have serious consideration. People want to know how he stands on some of the national policies so far pursued.

But at this time talk based on foolish prejudice against either Taft or Eisenhower, talk without real information to support it, can only result in causing worse doubt in the minds of the public.

So far Gen. Eisenhower, like Charles

Evans Hughes when he was reluctant to seek the Republican nomination for the presidency, has shown remarkable restraint and recognition of the seriousness of the move in announcing that he is willing to be a candidate. In his present position he had good reason for his attitude.

It is unfair to him, regardless of how individuals may favor Taft, to start sniping at him with charges that may be unfounded. After all he may become the Republican candidate and some of these "loose talk" individuals may find it convenient to swallow some of their earlier remarks.

However, it would only be fair, for Eisenhower in good time to make known his views on big questions of the day affecting our national policies. If he is willing to become a presidential candidate and his present important duties in Europe make it improper for him to speak his sincere views, he should arrange to be relieved of his military duties and tell the people where he stands.

Only in this way will those who expect to make a carefully considered choice for the Republican nomination, be able to sincerely decide free of prejudice due to irresponsible chatter.

Newspaper Ads

Newspaper advertising volume set a new record last year, as it has every year since the end of World War II. Advertising in daily newspapers has become so indispensable a function of modern business that few large establishments would long survive if it were not available. And, similarly, newspapers would suffer greatly if advertising did not keep pace with journalistic progress. People buy newspapers to read the ads as well as the news because they know advertising is an indispensable guide to better living.

No Texas! Well, Just Ask a Texan

By Clayton Hickerson

(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

Editor's Note: Yesterday, Hal Boyle's column was written by Ed Creagh and he used the well-known familiar Christmas motif of "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus" to say: "No, Virginia, there ain't no Texas." The following article is an answer to Creagh, written by a Texan.

By CLAYTON HICKERSON
IN TEXAS—Never let it be said a Texan didn't rise and wave the Lone Star flag when his heart swells up with pride in his homeland.

And when some foreign columnist, Ed Creagh, in Washington tells a bewildered Virginia there is no Texas. . . well.

Dear Virginia:
Of course, honey, there's a place called Texas. A great, big wonderful place where the sun shines brightest when it shines and where the snow lies deepest, when it falls.

Texas is the land of manana, that great big place of the rock-candy mountains and gingerbread trees where every dandy-dance wants to go tomorrow.

Texas is the place where they manufacture culture if they don't already have it, where the symphony may come to a cropper when a hill-billy fiddler makes his G-string talk. It's the place where the old cow-hand may use a V-8 instead of a cayuse, baby, but he's still as fast on the draw as Tom Mix ever was.

In fact, Tom Mix was a Texan, Virginia. He was just one of the thousands who got in early on the business Hollywood calls hers. . .

the business that Texans like Howard Hughes and Glenn McCarthy support now.

And don't let any dandy-dance tell you Texas is just a state of mind, Virginia. The skeptic may as well tell you and me there is no Santa Claus. There'll always be a Santa Claus in Texas, honey, come hell or the end of the oilman's depletion allowance.

Texas is no gag, either, child.

Steers as real as a bawling steer running up the ramp of a cattle car on the railroad which Texas money keeps running. It's as real as untempered billion cubic feet of natural gas that keep industry running in those bleak area called New England and the Atlantic Seaboard. . . that keep little girls warm on frosty nights.

And Davy Crockett a Tennessee? That's funny to us Texans, Virginia. Davy Crockett and Sam Rayburn, too, were Tennesseans. . . before they came to Texas, but who ever heard of a bowie knife in Nashville or an Alamo in Memphis? Whoever heard of such a thing?

Are the women all beautiful and the men all handsome? Well, Virginia, not quite all of them. But Audie Murphy isn't the best-looking guy who ever came out of Texas even if he did stand off the whole darn Wehrmacht and come back to be a movie star. And such gals as Linda Darnell, Ann Sheridan, Mary Martin, and Ginger Rogers are living proof that the girls don't grow very bad looking.

Never, Virginia, never let a dandy-dance say that Texas isn't big, that the men are not brave and handsome, and that the women are not sweet and beautiful.

Maybe Texas is the place for you, baby.

Five and Ten Percenter Business

By George Sokolsky

The world these days seem to be full of five percenters and ten percenters and even those who take more than that for services rendered or unrendered. These agents are presumed to have nexus with fame and glory.

Authors, writing for magazine or book publishers, playwrights, lecturers, actors and all sorts of energetic and hopeful persons find the ladder of success covered with unproductive persons who have some kind of special "in" for selling to other people's services. Such commissions range from five to 35 percent and usually fine devices are conceived to make part of the commission seem to be for some special service.

The shooting of a ten percent by Walter Wanger naturally stimulated curiosity as to the breed, which in Hollywood is especially prolific. The agent there is a very engaging person, usually associated with one or another of a few terrifically powerful (to use a Hollywoodian expression) agencies that exercise a vast influence, often in restraint of wisdom, if not of trade.

In New York state, a fee of more than five percent is illegal and the agent collecting more is ipso facto guilty of a misdemeanor or can lose his license. Few of the payers of these commissions know that there is such a law and therefore pay what they are asked to, in the hope of further engagements.

The law is specific, so far as New York state is concerned, and as much of the business is transacted here, it would be advantageous to those who are being gypped to read article II, section 185 of the general business law of the state of New York.

It is true that the agents have been active in trying to get the legislature to pass more favorable provisions. In this they have failed, thus far, as they should.

The law provides that in all theatrical business, except vaudeville or circus engagements, commissions shall not "in any case exceed the gross amount of five per centum of the wages or salary of the engagement when the engagement is less than 10 weeks and an amount of five per centum of the salary or wages per week for ten weeks of a season's engagement constituting ten weeks or more. . . ."

The law further says: "A licensed person conducting any employment agency under this article shall not receive or accept any valuable thing or gift as a fee or in lieu thereof. No such licensed person shall divide or share, either directly or indirectly. . . ."

Well, there it is. In New York state, where radio and television originate and where most of the concert singers and many name bands sign on and authors write plays and scripts and all that sort of stuff, only five percent may be charged—only that much and no more.

Now, that raises the question of how the 10 percenters operate. Apparently, they or their lawyers have discovered a way of evading misdemeanors or perverts those public officials who are supposed to see that the law is enforced, pay no attention to it. Or maybe they sign the contracts in California instead of in New York. It is a misdemeanor like double-parking, which is also evaded.

Frankly, I cannot bother to find out how it is done, what with all that is happening in the world today. Talent ought to find its way of rising to the surface without paying a fee for the privilege, but in our world, everything becomes first a trade, then a big deal, with vast vested interests. Then someone comes along and tells how wrong it all is and for a time, there is a clean-up, such as is now taking place in Washington, in a minor manner, in connection with mink coats and the sale of privilege by public officials. Then the public gets bored and there are even those who say that it is all done to smear a good man, as Alger Hiss was smeared by a grand jury and two trials and appeals to higher courts and now disbarment by the supreme court.

The real trouble is that in big things and in small things those who work up a racket get away with their cleverness because nobody gets very angry about breaches of the law. It is all no longer a question of right or wrong but what someone can get away with. Until we get real angry, there will be privilege and trickery. And the people are not really angry about much, yet.

Lazy Thyroid Blamed For Some Pains

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
If you have been suffering from severe headaches, together with pains in the face and neck, your trouble may be due to a lazy thyroid gland, and you had better see your doctor instead of just taking self-prescribed headache tablets.

Incidentally, this combination of pains is a frequent one. Many patients describe the symptoms as an intense or dull ache, or a throbbing pain just in front of the ear, up into the head and down the back of the neck.

Sometimes these people also have a feeling of pressure over the chest, and even severe chest pains. Usually, the pain occurs when the person is overtired, and may last from an hour to 24 hours.

According to recent thought, an underactive thyroid gland may be at the bottom of this disorder. This is known medically as a hypothyroid condition, and comes from a deficiency of thyroid hormone in the blood. Lack of thyroid hormone prevents the body cells from getting enough oxygen and nutrition, and thus causes the pain. This explanation is only one of many that have been offered regarding this type of disorder.

Tests were recently made with 29 persons who had the pains in the face, neck and head as described above, and who also had a hypothyroid condition. Taking thyroid by mouth brought great improvement in all of these patients, usually after two weeks of treatment.

Adequate Tests

It is important to remember, however, that this type of treatment should not be undertaken unless a physician has first made a careful physical examination, together with adequate tests to find out if a thyroid deficiency really exists. This is best determined by making a metabolism test after the patient has been at rest at least eight hours. A blood test to determine the amount of cholesterol in the blood stream can also give a clue.

If a genuine thyroid deficiency is present, the physician can then prescribe the exact dose of thyroid extract needed by the individual patient.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

O. C.: I have had a case of shingles which has persisted for the past six months. The pain has continued severely since that time. What would you advise?

Answer: Sometimes the giving of X-ray treatments is helpful in this condition. If X-ray does not help, the sectioning of certain nerves causing the pain may be done by a neurosurgeon.

Train Hits Wagon And Woman Killed

SANDUSKY, Jan. 11.—(P)—An unexpected mail train thundered into Sandusky station Wednesday night, smashing an express wagon parked across its tracks. Splinters killed a woman and seriously injured a man.

The 10-car westbound mail train—sparks flying from wheels which had been braked—roared in on tracks between the station and a standing passenger train.

The victims were among a group of seven preparing to board the eastbound train. Others in the wagon were not hit by parts of the group being used to load baggage onto the passenger train.

Mrs. Carl C. Schoepfle, 61, of Cleveland Heights, died of a fractured skull.

Jeffery Cohn, 56, of South Bend, Ind., suffering broken legs. J. D. Deal of Toledo, the engineer of the train, told police a tower a mile east of the station failed to signal him another train was standing in the station.

But Lewis Ross of Sandusky, the towerman, said he had signalled the engineers to "ease off."

Church Is Sued By Former Nun

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 11.—(P)—A woman who served nine years as a Dominican nun seeks lifetime support from Roman Catholic authorities in a breach of contract suit.

In her suit, filed Wednesday Miss Mary Gilligan of Plainfield claims she was promised life support when she entered a Summit convent in 1926.

Miss Gilligan said the diocese, the order and the archbishop, broke the agreement in 1935 "without cause and ended her residence" in the convent. Since that time, aid from Catholic charities has been inadequate, she said.

The convent, the diocese and archbishop deny entering into any contract with Miss Gilligan or that they are under any obligation to pay her.

They said there was no civil contract and she "left the convent and separated herself from the religious community in violation of its rules and church canons."

Another Snag Struck In Turnpike Progress

COLUMBUS, Jan. 11.—(P)—The Ohio Turnpike Commission split 3-2 Wednesday on who it should hire to appraise and acquire land for right-of-way for the proposed $300 million toll road.

The final vote favored hiring two Cleveland firms—the Land Title Guarantee & Trust Co. to handle acquisition of titles, and M. J. Rudolph, R. C. Carpenter, D. C. Dunlap and R. L. Free to appraise the land.

But, because of the split, Commission Chairman James W. Shocknessy decided to wait until after the commission's next meeting, Jan. 25, to sign contracts.

Central Ohio Racket Inquiry Is Planned

COLUMBUS, Jan. 11.—(P)—The United States attorney for Central Ohio Thursday received instructions from Washington to call a special grand jury to investigate racketeers and corruption.

No action will be taken until next week when U. S. Attorney J. Ray O'Donnell returns to Columbus. Loren Windom, assistant U. S. attorney, said the order is being held until O'Donnell returns from Dayton where he is trying federal cases.

Atty. Gen. J. Howard McGrath announced last Saturday in Washington he had instructed all 93 U. S. attorneys in the nation to confer with law enforcement agencies at various levels and call special grand juries into session. The nationwide probe would be a direct result of recent Senate Crime Investigating Committee hearings.

The federal grand jury goes into regular session here Friday. Windom said no cases involving gambling or racketeers are on the present docket.

Policy Racket Crew Rough

CLEVELAND, Jan. 11.—(P)—Fifty-five persons were robbed Wednesday night at an east side apartment into which they had either been dragged from the street or enticed with the promise of a policy drawing.

The loot in the marathon robbery—which lasted from 6:30 p. m. until 8 p. m.—was estimated at $500 in cash plus a number of watches, rings and other jewelry.

Willie White, in whose apartment it all took place, was quoted by police as telling this story:

An unidentified man made arrangements with Mrs. White to hold the drawings at the home and offered them $10 daily. One was held Wednesday afternoon, two on Monday and two on Tuesday.

But Wednesday night four men showed up armed with a pistol, two shotguns and a rifle. As policy players showed up, they robbed them and forced them to remain inside the apartment.

White said some of those inside his home were not players; they were just dragged inside as they walked past.

Preaching from Peculiar Pulpits

Sunday School Lesson

By ROY L. SMITH
Dr. Frank S. Mead, author of that very thrilling book entitled, "The March of Eleven Men," has called attention to the fact that Jesus of Nazareth was always preaching from strange pulpits—from the stern of a boat at the edge of a lake, in the kitchen of some home in which he happened to be stopping, from a hillside, and wherever the people were. John Wesley did something of the same thing and William Booth founded the Salvation Army on street-corner meetings. St. Francis of Assisi was another such.

The Uniform Sunday School Lesson for January 13: "The Call of the Fishermen," Matthew 4:18-25; Mark 1:16-20; Luke 5:1-11.

The modern church could well take a lesson from those who would destroy our democracy and our Christian faith. The subversives do not own great halls, nor do they gather in vast congregations. They preach their doctrines from lathes, the seats of trucks, or from workmen's benches to the worker who stands next to them. If religious men would do the same, and with equal zeal, this world would be turned upside down and made into the pattern of righteousness within an incredibly short time. After all, a workbench makes a good pulpit if the man working at the bench is firmly convinced of the truth and importance of the thing he believes.

Put Out Into The Deep

There is a very great danger that decency and godliness may be defeated because of the timidity of decent men. One of the best ways to overthrow Communism, for example, is for the man who has benefited by the democratic process to begin singing its praises, as the taxi driver did who picked up a fare on the streets of Chicago. He was scarcely under way, his flag pulled down, when he began boasting to his passenger of the glory of his American citizenship.

"Look at me," he said. "I am a free citizen. My vote counts for just as much as the vote of that guy that owns the big building yonder. I am free. No one is shoving me around. I sleep through every night. I don't worry about the secret police knocking at my door at night. And I'm going to give my country the best there is in me. I owe it everything; I can give it some loyalty and be a better man."

And as he talked his passenger began to thrill to his words. At the end of the trip both were better citizens.

So few people get the most out of their lives because they are not able to live to the limit, either for God or country.

Net Washing
A certain amount of net washing is necessary, of course, but a very great many people exhaust themselves at it so that they have no strength left for fishing. They are the people who spend all their time making surveys and then never make any use of the information accumulated in the process. They go into research and never come out anywhere. They get on the committee that starts the probe but they never carry through to convict the criminal.

Godliness is a Life Work
Even the crooks and the gangsters are capable of occasional good deeds. But this world will be redeemed, if at all, by those who make godliness their life's work.

More Land Proposed Around State Lakes

COLUMBUS, Jan. 11.—(P)—The Ohio Natural Resources Commission has recommended that before any land is acquired for state lakes, purchase plans should include buying at least a 500-foot strip around the shore line as well as adequate access strips.

A. W. Marion, Natural Resources Department director, told the commission the department has "inherited" several as yet-uncompleted projects where insufficient land has been acquired to guarantee full use of the entire shore line and adequate access areas.

He said some land development groups are using opportunities to "squeeze the public out" in some areas.

The commission's resolution will affect projects where water has not yet been impounded, as well as all future projects.

Senator Daniels Speaks at Legion Auxiliary Meeting

The regular meeting of the Paul H. Hughey Post, American Legion Auxiliary, was held in the Legion Hall, with Mrs. Howard Mace, president, presiding and Legion members as invited guests.

Mrs. Joe F. Loudner gave the secretary's report and Mrs. Selby Gerstner, treasurer, gave her report.

Mrs. Paul Mohr, Americanism chairman, announced that a flag had been purchased for Eastside School and would be presented at a flag dedication ceremony and also told the members that flags would be placed in several other schools soon.

Mrs. George Phillips and Mrs. Arthur Herbolzheimer were given a rising vote of thanks for the efficiently planned Christmas party given for underprivileged children in conjunction with the American Legion.

Mrs. Eddie Jones reported on gifts at the holiday to shut-ins.

Mrs. Chester Dunn, chairman of the serving of the Horsemen's dinner, reported a tidy sum realized which will be added to the treasury.

The members voted to cooperate with the Legion in replacing the roof on Legion Hall and will also participate in the interior decorating.

A liberal donation was made to the March of Dimes and the members decided to serve a luncheon on March 27 for Farm Bureau Achievement Day.

Mrs. Emerson Chapman announced a special meeting on January 31, when Mrs. Arthur T. Palmer, department president, will be the guest speaker.

Mrs. Allen Hays, legislative chairman, presented the guest speaker, Senator Albert L. Daniels, who devoted most of his talk to legislation for the veterans, widows and dependents.

Senator Daniels, who has just announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Congress from the Sixth Ohio District at the primary election in May, using as his platform to quote, "I will support those great principles upon which our forefathers built America; I will vote to decrease income taxes—not to increase them—and to drive corruption and Communism from federal government positions."

He commended the American Legion Auxiliary for having a unit, department and national legislative department, and said, "Nothing was more effective than women to keep in constant touch with the House and U. S. Senate."

This government has at no time, in Senator Daniels' opinion, ever given the direct aid to the disabled veteran that it should and state government can and has done a remarkable job so far as it can.

Senator Daniels, now serving his sixth term, in the support of this senatorial community and from past experience has learned that a well defined and comprehensive speech can be soon forgotten by a group, but one thing said that is not liked is well remembered.

He told his listeners that this country has always been known as the land of opportunity, personally appreciated by him, who has known hardships, coming from a family of twelve children.

The world, he said, was truly facing the supreme test of tests—world civilization and the spirit of the American soldier living under the kind of government we have, can lick the "socks" off any other soldier of any other country.

In conclusion he urged all who have sons, husbands or brothers in the Korean war to keep a diary as to injury, treatment and other incidents that might mean much to this veteran if he needs apply for disability.

Following his talk, a social hour was enjoyed, with Mrs. Arthur Herbolzheimer and Mrs. Otis Hess in charge of the refreshment committee.

And, McKinley Kirk, of Washington C. H., tops all Ohioans with five eligibles.

But his quintet will not be the only representatives from Fayette County.

The Jackson Glove Co. stable of Washington C. H., has two and Eddie Cobb of Washington C. H., has one still eligible.

Jug Secretary H. C. Thomson has announced that of the 185 two-year olds that had $100 payments made on them, 50 of them belong to Ohioans.

Members of the Buckeye harness racing fraternity have been trying for victory in the Jug since it was inaugurated in 1946.

The best showing so far by an Ohioan has been registered by candidates owned by C. M. Saunders of Toledo.

In 1949 his Stormyway finished second in the summaries after having won one elimination heat. In 1947 his Goose Bay captured second money. Saunders made payments on four 1953 prospects.

O. C. Adelman of Mt. Vernon, who has had Jug money winners in Budmide and Chief Long, kept Budlong eligible. McKinley Kirk of Washington C. H., who has sought Jug victory with Floating Dream, Honest Truth and The Miracle, kept five paid up.

O. L. MEARS of Toledo, who came closest to victory when Marcellus was second a heat in 1947, made payments on three side-wheelers.

Little Brown Jug Chairman Joe Neville has two prospects for the '53 renewal.

Jug previews were staged in 1944 and 1945 for $10,000 each. Neville had the winner of the first one of these in Eddie Havens.

T. Wayne (Curley) Smart of Delaware was the driver of Ensign Hanover, winner of the initial Jug as well as Eddie Havens, has an eligible in Judge Pick.

College Prexies Cold-shouldered

CINCINNATI, Jan. 11.—The National Collegiate Athletic Association insisted it was still alive and kicking Friday, but some of its best friends were busy burying the corpse.

The some 250 delegates moved into the general business session with only a polite nod in the direction of a committee of college presidents demanding a drastic 10-point program of de-emphasis.

The group tackled a series of rather mild resolutions concerning continuance of controlled football television, new enforcement machinery, curtailed spring football practice and a year's study of foul games.

The agenda doesn't call for any official action on the points raised by the presidents calling for the abolition of all bowl and post-season games, strict limitations on playing and practice sessions and sharp controls on the subsidization of athletes.

SOME OF THESE matters could be brought up fresh from the floor, however, and conceivably that might happen before Saturday's adjournment.

Dr. John Hannah, president of Michigan State College, and Dr. Arthur Adams, president of the American Council of Education, presented the presidents' committee report to the NCAA executive council Thursday.

When they were through, there was great confusion about who will be running the nation's athletic policies during the next few years—the presidents or the NCAA.

Hannah said in a press conference afterwards that his committee is going right ahead and making its recommendations to the executive council of the American Council of Education.

If adopted, he said, the rules will be enforced through the regional accrediting agencies. An institution failing to comply might face loss of accreditation.

"It has been said that we have moved in because of lack of confidence in the NCAA and the conferences," Hannah said. "That is only partly so."

"We have seen examples of institutions not being averted by the present governing bodies. Two southern teams recently went to bowl games despite a conference ban."

"A COUPLE OF years ago we had violators of the sanity code but nobody refused to play these black-listed teams."

"We feel we now have the ideal weapon for enforcement—that is, threat of loss of accreditation."

Should the presidents' proposals become law, the NCAA would be left only a shell of its once potent self. The American Council of Education then would be setting the policy and enforcing it. The NCAA wouldn't, under the program, even have post-season championships to regulate, because there would be none.

Some saw in the presidents' action a death blow to the NCAA.

However, neither the NCAA nor the presidents' group recognized it as such.

Feller Gets Pay Hike With Indian Contract

CLEVELAND, Jan. 11.—Bob Feller, who's won more games than any other active major league pitcher, has signed his 14th contract with the Cleveland Indians.

How much Feller will draw for 1952 wasn't announced. Sports

Castellani Favored To Whip Durando

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(P)—Clever Rocky Castellani is an 8 to 5 favorite to make Ernie Durando of Bayonne, N. J., his 11th straight victim when they clash in the main 10 rounder in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

The sharp-shooting Teaneck, N. J., middleweight, called in as a sub for Paddy Young, whipped the Bayonne bomber in their first meeting two years ago.

The 10 p. m. bout will be broadcast by ABC and telecast by NBC.

Mrs. W. L. Huntley's Whirling Dough, a candidate for Hialeah's grass stakes this season, holds three track speed records.

Columbiana is the only filly ever to win the Widener at Hialeah the Widener at Hialeah race track.

Betting Record Set For Harness Racing

COLUMBUS, Jan. 11.—The nation's harness racing fans wagered more money in 1951 than ever before.

The U. S. Trotting Association said Friday betting totaled $304,010,301 last year. State taxes took $16,380,584 of this sum.

Previous record national handle was $238,258,159 in 1950. States collected $1,663,672 that year.

The association, governing body of the sport, said the betting total was up 27.6 per cent. The amount paid to states increased 29.4 per cent.

California, New Jersey, Delaware, Michigan and New York showed the biggest percentage hikes, both in total handle and tax revenue. Eight of the 11 states that sanction pari-mutuel wagering on harness races showed increases.

Only three states, Kentucky, Maine and Massachusetts, recorded a drop in overall totals from the 1950 marks. None of those states had as many racing days as a year ago.

New York State had the largest total handle, showing $190,908,421, nearly $12 million of which went into the state treasury. Other states with large total handle were Michigan, Illinois, California and Maryland, all more than $19 million through the windows.

Total handle in Ohio amounted to $6,560,119, with the state taking in $93,942,511.

Iowa Faces Test Against Hoosiers

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Iowa's undefeated Hawkeyes quietly moving up among the nation's basketball leaders, "shoot the works" Saturday night against once-beaten Indiana.

The sellout engagement at Iowa City is the feature of the weekend's five-game Big Ten schedule.

If Indiana loses again, its chances for the Big Ten championship will be remote. Two losses, with such teams as Iowa and Illinois leading the pack with perfect records, would be all but a knockout blow.

The two other Big Ten teams unbeaten in conference play, Illinois (2-0) and Purdue (1-0), play away from home Saturday, the Illini at Michigan and Purdue at Northwestern.

In other Big Ten games, Ohio State plays at Wisconsin and Michigan State meets Minnesota in Minneapolis.

In other Midwest games Saturday, Loyola is at Bowling Green and Notre Dame is at Marquette.

writers guessed the 33-year-old righthander will knock down about $55,000. General Manager Hank Greenberg said that with the raise Feller now is "probably the highest paid pitcher in baseball."

Track and Field Sport Revival at WHS Now Seriously Considered

Washington C. H. High School will probably field a track team this year, following action by the city school board Thursday afternoon in authorizing a revival of the sport.

Whether there is sufficient money in the high school athletic fund will be made known by the Athletic Association, which will work out the details for starting the sport again.

Kurt Koons, at the request of the city school board, appeared before the group briefly Thursday afternoon and outlined his proposal for launching a track team this spring.

HE ESTIMATED that it would cost about $252 to revive the sport; practically all this amount would go for track equipment for the boys. There are 42 hurdles, jumping pits, discuses, two shot puts and a supply of sweat shirts, pants and shoes. But additional sweat shirts and track outfits must be purchased to outfit the team.

Koons said Wilmington, Circleville and a few other towns in this area had track teams and would be available for scheduling. There are also invitational track meets which WHS could enter. There would be some expenses of transportation. Entry fees in the invitational meets are small—only about 25 cents a man.

SINCE NO CHARGE is made at track meets here, other sports—football and basketball—would have to support track.

Koons, when asked if the track season would interfere in any way with baseball, said he didn't think high school boys should and could go out for the two spring sports.

Board members mentioned the fact that track was a great conditioner for football, and their opinion was shared by Koons.

One of the board members said he was happy to see a member of the coaching staff seriously interested in reviving track here, and was heartily in favor of the program, if the Athletic Board felt it could finance the sport.

Simpson Top Driver On Grand Circuit

GOSHEN, N. Y., Jan. 11.—(P)—John F. Simpson of Chester, S. C., is the second harness racing driver in the 78-year-old history of the Grand Circuit to win more than $200,000 in purses in one year.

Simpson, a veteran reinsman at 31 years, was the top money-winning driver on the circuit in 1951 with $246,659. He will be awarded the Grand Circuit drivers trophy.

He beat out Del Miller of Meadow Lands, Pa., who won the 1950 title with earnings of $259,933. Miller still is the top money winning harness driver of all time at Elkhorn, Wis., $100,672.

place went to Bennie Schue of Grand Forks, N. D.

Others over $100,000 in 1951 were:

Wayne Smart of Delaware, Ohio, $114,511; Frank Ervin of Aiken, S. C., $107,642; and Guy Crippen of Elkhorn, Wis., $100,672.

Gadget Takes Jiggle Out of Train Ride

CLEVELAND, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Nickel Plate Railroad engineers have developed a machine designed to take the jiggle out of train rides. The machine is scheduled to reach the general market Monday under the name of the Dunwright track gauging machine. It is being manufactured by the Nordberg Co. of Milwaukee.

Some European lines long have used the systems that assure accurate alignment, but American railroads have depended mostly on a peep sight and a track gauge.

The American system leaves a lot to the accuracy of the human eye. The result has been lurches and tremors, Nickel Plate said.

The new device uses a shoe eight feet long to make certain the tie plates are properly spaced. It drills the holes four feet, eight and a half inches apart.

The machine is named for two of its three designers—William M. S. Dunn, NKP general roadmaster, and C. Ray Wright, assistant chief engineer. The third is M. M. Stansbury, superintendent of maintenance-of-way equipment.

Little Joe's Claim Called 'Politics'

COLUMBUS, Jan. 11.—(AP)—State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson Thursday reported irregularities totaling $834,259 in financial transactions of the City of Columbus in 1949.

But Columbus City Auditor R. P. Bartholow countered that Ferguson's report was "an obvious effort to halt snowballing sentiment among Ohio Republican circles for nominating Jim Rhodes (Columbus Mayor James A. Rhodes) for state auditor."

Ferguson's annual audit listed $2,282 in findings for recovery, $300,920 in findings for adjustment and $531,057 in illegal expenditures.

He said $1,187 of the amount for recovery was paid back during the audit. Findings for adjustment represented illegal fund transfers and errors, Ferguson said.

Ferguson, a Democrat seeking re-election, charged Columbus officials made illegal expenditures "with a deliberate and impudent disregard for the laws of the state and city."

Drama of Atlantic

"I commanded that ship for three years and made 44 crossings of the Atlantic," he said.

"She was a very well built ship. She was an extremely solid ship."

He will go back to sea, he said. And it may be aboard another Flying Enterprise. The Isbrandtsen Line, owners of the ship, referring proudly to the heroic master, has announced he can have a new command whenever he wants it and that likely there will be a new Flying Enterprise for him one day.

Carlsen seemed calm as he described his ordeal, a solitary battle for a week after he ordered his crew of 40 and 10 passengers to abandon ship on Dec. 29, four days after the Christmas hurricane hit. He managed to get four to six hours sleep a night, sleeping "half on the port wall and half on the floor" of the crazily tilted vessel.

It was a hungry affair for him for a while.

"I found down in the storeroom a big pound cake with a big hole in it, and I put my arm through it and brought it up," he said.

He lived on the pound cake and water for several days. Later he found some wine and beer aboard. Still later, the U. S. Destroyer Willard Keith got hot coffee and food to him.

By night, he read by the light of a flickering candle. His book was "The Seaman and the Law." Things brightened for him after a week of lonely battle, when the salvage tug Turmoil, coming close by, put aboard First Mate Kenneth Dancy, 27.

Friday, Dancy stood beside Carlsen on the platform and kept his arm around the little skipper.

"I must express my great admiration for Capt. Carlsen," Dancy told the crowd.

The cargo in the lost vessel's five hatches included 1,271 tons of pig iron, several tons of U. S. mail from Germany, 890 tons of African coffee, 55 tons of graphite, 8 tons of boone meal, some furniture and barrels of aluminum chloride, some steel vats loaded with carpets, 800 bales of pea moss, 65 bird cages, five tons of Columbian ore, 25 barrels of onions and cucumbers in brine, 260 bags of grass seed, a number of bales of animal hair from India, and a number of bales of jute bagging.

Colonists at Jamestown, Va., made crude glass soon after they landed in 1607 because of its value in trading with the Indians.

so that teachers would have a half day to grade semester examinations and make out report cards. No motion was passed on this proposal, however.

Supt. Brown pointed out that the teachers were particularly busy at the end of the semester, and needed the additional time to do their work.

Board members passed a resolution approving tax rates of 4.7 inside the 10 mill limitation and 5.80 outside the 10 mill limitation, as set up by the Budget Commission.

An appropriations resolution for appropriating money to run the schools during the current year was tabled until the next meeting.

Frank Brown and Walter Rettig were appointed by President John Sagar to serve as city board representatives on the Athletic Board.

ANNOUNCEMENT, was made that board members will make a tour of the city schools at 9 A. M. next Saturday.

A report was made that gym decorations will be fireproofed, with Fire Chief George Hall working with the students on the project. Strips of muslin, 34 inches wide, will be sewn together by the Future Homemakers Chapter of W.H.S. There will be about 32 strips, approximately 78 feet long, which will be stitched together to form the decoration.

Supt. Brown reported that the chemistry and physics laboratory would be modified so that the laboratory could be utilized at periods other than laboratory periods. He said he would make a more detailed report on the project at a later meeting of the board.

IT WAS REPORTED that gym equipment, recently purchased by the board from the Blanchester Schools, has been paid for and can now be hauled here. Richard Waters volunteered a pick-up truck for Kurt Koons to use in hauling the equipment to the high school gym here.

The Medart Company will provide the school here with the rollers necessary to place the equipment in a usable condition.

Supt. Brown's recommendation that Mrs. Ada Kathryn Minshall, Mrs. W. H. Limes and Mrs. Fred Morr be placed on the substitute teaching list was approved by the board. Mrs. Minshall and Mrs. Morr will be available for teaching in the elementary grades and Mrs. Limes in the high school.

Board members again gave routine authorization for Fred Rost, clerk of the board, to pay certain bills, which were defined at the organization meeting held Jan. 7.

New board members who were in attendance at their first regular board meeting included: Frank Brown, Alfred Weatherly and Walter Rettig. Returning board members present were Richard Waters and John Sagar.

The meeting got underway shortly after 4 P. M. and continued until 6:07 P. M. The meetings will be held in 1952 at 4 P. M. on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month.

Foundation Laid for Next Fair Here

Contracts Let For Features And Midway

The directors of Fayette County's Fair today were back home attending to their own affairs after having laid the foundations for next summer's agricultural and entertainment extravaganza at the three-day meeting of the Ohio Fair Managers Association in Columbus this week.

Virtually all of the main features of the Fair have been arranged for now; all that remains to be done—and there's still plenty left—is to fill in with the strictly "local" attractions such as the displays and exhibits of Fayette County products.

Three attractions have been booked for the five nights of the Night Fair, shows and rides for the Midway have been lined up and the starter and presiding judge for the harness racing program have been appointed.

The pattern of planning for the Fair was just about the same as that which has proved so successful in the past.

THE NIGHT FAIR attractions all were booked through the Gus Sun agency.

For Tuesday and Wednesday night Lucky Lott's daredevil show is to put on its thrill performances in front of the grandstand.

A troupe of the Ted Mack entertainers is to stage the Thursday night show. This, it was explained, is an amateur variety show akin to a vaudeville. The troupe is made up of young entertainers selected from the television show staged by Ted Mack.

Another thrill show was booked for Friday and Saturday nights—the Cherokee Ranch Wild West Rodeo. It has been several years since a show of this kind has been offered at the Night Fair here and members of the board said it was scheduled by "popular request."

Plans for the "bigger and better" Midway were outlined and then the details of developing it along those lines were left to the Gooding Amusement Co. This is the same agency that has set up the Midway here for, as one director put it, "high onto 40 years."

THE ROUGH DRAFT of the Midway plans call for "seven or eight rides and half a dozen shows" as the nucleus. Around these there are to be the smaller concessions and novelty attractions that go to make up the whole gaudy and raucous fun area.

Most of the larger independent concessions, such as the lunch centers, also were signed up during the OFMA convention. For the most part, they are those that have been coming here over a period of years. "A couple of new ones" were added this year, a committeeman said. "To take care of the increased crowds." Besides, a lunch stand was given a spot on the west side of the grounds where it would be handy for the horsemen and some of the livestock exhibitors.

Hank Butler was signed up to come back again next summer with his mobile gate to start the races. W. C. "Briggs" Mercer is coming back, too, as the presiding judge.

The presiding judgeship was discussed with one of the directors, John Sagar, who holds a USTA license, but he persuaded the board that he would rather not serve at a Fair for which he was a director and member of the speed committee. The board bowed to his wishes.

MEMBERS OF THE Fayette County board had a prominent part in the convention. Frank E. Ellis, the secretary, presided at the conference of speed department (harness horse racing) superintendents on Wednesday afternoon and made a report on the meeting to the full convention that evening.

Ellis also took part in the panel discussion, "Press Meets the Fair Managers," Thursday afternoon. The discussions centered around Fair publicity and public relations. As a fair secretary and the advertising manager of the Record-Herald, Ellis was in a position to discuss both sides of the question. On the panel with him were R.

Ohio Oil Shale

Oil-bearing shales found in Colorado have a much higher oil content than those found in Ohio.

But Ohio could beat Colorado to the punch in extracting oil from shale. That is because Ohio is closer to markets and has a better supply of water needed in the processes.

Ohio shale today can yield seven or eight gallons of oil per ton of rock. Low grade coal has a much higher oil content. Improvements in extraction and refinement methods could raise the yield, Melvin says.
